FRANCE AND STAM IN THE. MEKONG VALLEY.

The activity of the French in the Lac states and the Mokong valley is not unnatural. ly causing some excitement in Siam. The Siam Herald informs us that the Government of that country are taking steps to check what our contemporary terms the hostile movements of the French by the appointment of stations along the banks of the Mekong on both sides of the stream and the appointment of trustworthy commissioners at all the principal towns bordering the French boundary, the commissioners to have a force sufficiently imposing to assert their authority and repel trespossers over the border. The Siamese are wise in thus giving a tangible form to their sovereignty over the district in question if they really intend to dispute France's prefensions. The French contend that the Laos states are really dependencies of Annan, whose empire they "sequent poverty, and by seeing their trade the same effect as a bribe! The King is an enlightened monarch and is assisted by able Ministers, the nobles and people appear favourably disposed ton policy of progress and there is every reason to believe the country has before it a happy and prosperous future. It is important, however, with France pressing on her castern and northeastern border, that she should as far possible remove all cause of future quarre by taking up a clearly defined position with regard to her houndary line. In the absence of effective occupation claims to sovereignty over any particular territory are in these days treated with scant respect, and are calculated to lead to trouble. Spain almost lost the Caroline Islands a few years ago owing to the want of effective occupation, in the absence of which the German flug was hoisted, and in the negotiations that followed it was well established as a point of international law that there must be something more than mere declaration to make good a title to possession. The case of the Laos states is somewhat analogous to that of the Caroline Islands, both Siam and France, the latter as the protector of Aunam, lays claim to them, though neither is at present in a position to produce much evidence in the shape of actual control in support of its claim. Siam has apparently recognised the importance of this point, and has, if our Bangkok contemporary is correct, met it by the appointment of commissioners who are to be supported by a sufficient force to compel respect. The step is a wise one for the longer the dispute with France is allowed to simmer the more difficult will be the ultimate settlement.

ALONE IN KWANGSI. IV .- TOA PAR. The sun had during the day been very bot and my thirty miles' tramp had therefore tired me considerably, which in a measure explains the disappearing old cart called to my mind There was no choice, however, so looking eagerly round for signs that I was approaching my destination for the day, I tramped along, meeting at one time a young fellow parrying a load of new cut rice, whom I asked how far it was yet to Toa Pak to which he replied in bad lan gauge and not at all to the point. Finally, as the sun went down, unable to walk any farther, I laid down my traps and myself alongside of them, resigned to pass the night in the open again and much too tired to regret the expected evening meal, but wishing sincerely that my bamboo water flask had not been so complete ly empty: While I lay thus, meditating on the apposite direction. The Moials are to be Jamnese, so that there may be no friction between the Company and its customers. The nature of this large speculation is said to be a secret, but a Japanese journalist has always a specious explanation ready, and in this case the proposed business is said to be that of landing money to the Japanese at low rates on mortgages of experts, so as to permit the Japanese to store their goods in the godowns of the English morchants. This felicitous enterprise is to coment friendly relations with the English, and greatly help to advance trade between the two opentries. This sounds like a tale of Cock-and-Bull, as the jester in the be taken cum grano selis. A further rumour states that Mr. Magee's object is to obtain labourers for Brazil on some tea plantations there.

The jurers were :- Mosers, A. F. dos Ro nedios, T. Humby, C. F. Grossmann, E. A. Abraham, W. Matheson, W. E. Rose, R. J. Gomes. Mr. Leach said the cose was one that was commonly known as highway robbery, the only additional fact being that prisoner at the time of the robbery was armed. Th facts of the case seemed to be that on the 25th January, that date being a Sandar the complainant and two others were in the afternoon wiking towerds Lup-sap-wan, being somewhere in the neighbourhood of the Rape Factory. They appeared to have been walking on or close to the beach. Suddenly a Chinamar appeared upon the scope with a revolver in hi hands. He demanded that they should give up what money they had in their possession. He seemed to have taken a few cents from two of the lads and from Sauchez he seem ed to have taken 21 cents. With that rot bory the prisoner was at present charged He seemed to have held a pistol at them and have threatened to shoot one or more of then unless they gave up all the money they had Sauchez appeared to have given up ten cents an then another ten cents, and the prisoner having got thirty cents out of the others came back Sauchez and took all the money which he had one cent. The prisoner appeared to have been afraid of a struggle and insisted that the lada should put their money down on the ground after which he made off He was not arrested until three months afterwards. He thought the only question for the jury was one as to indenti fication, and he thought the evidence for the prosecution was sufficiently strong and clear to dentify this man as having been the man, who committed this crime. IN GLISH AND CHINESE

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid alvance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is for students of a most instructive nature. Both the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography Menmur, British sire 1.287, II. Craig, May lo, displays the success of an attempt to make the Russell & Co., for Nagasaki and Kobe Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a charness not previously Pasig, thritish str., 284, Chines, for Canton allained, and dispensing with these wast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charac-To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vecabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Madhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains mom than 50,000 English quires examples to display the various applicutions and equivalents of different words which Tellos, Norw. riv., 1,944, J. Anandson, May 18, have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as Thishe, Austrian str., 2,869, Costanto, May 14, mony as any other Distionary, hitherto pub-For practical purposes the arrangement of .
